Diocese of Lake Charles
Attn: Morris J. LeBleu
411 Iris Street
Lake Charles, LA 70601

Dear Mr. LeBlue,

This is to advise you that the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau (CGB) of the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") has reviewed your petition for exemption from the closed captioning rules. CGB has found that your petition provides some, but not all, of the information needed for us to make a determination as to whether or not the FCC closed captioning requirements would be economically burdensome for you.

As an initial matter, your petition states that Glad Tidings should be exempt based on Section 79.1(d)(8), which exempts from the closed captioning rules "locally produced and distributed non-news programming with no repeat value." This exemption applies to "programming that is locally produced by the video programming distributor, has no repeat value, is of local public interest, is not news programming, and for which the 'electronic news room' technique of captioning is unavailable" (emphasis added). We note that this self-implementing exemption is a narrowly focused exemption available to programming produced by video programming distributors. Video programming distributor is defined in Section 79.1(a)(2) as follows: "Any television broadcast station licensed by the Commission and any multi-channel video programming distributor as defined in Section 76.1000(e) of the rules, and any other distributor of video programming for residential reception that delivers such programming directly to the home and is subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission" (emphasis added). Accordingly, because Diocese of Lake Charles is not a video programming distributor within the meaning of the FCC's Rules, it does not qualify for this exemption.

Also, you note that the Diocese of Lake Charles is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization. The FCC's Rules do not provide an across-the-board exemption from captioning for non-profit organizations.

With regard to the remainder of your petition, if you wish for this petition to receive further consideration for a closed captioning exemption, you must supplement your petition by providing us with the information described below by May 4, 2012. The information we need is:

- Verification of your efforts to solicit captioning assistance from the distributors of your programming; and
- Verification that you have sought additional sponsorship sources or other sources of revenue for captioning, and that, even if these efforts have not successfully produced assistance, you do not otherwise have the means to provide captioning for the program(s). Your petition states that "it has not been feasible to seek individual funding for the television programming,” but does not address whether other potential sources of revenue for captioning have been contacted.

If you do not file this additional information by May 4, 2012, or the information that you provide is still not sufficient for us to make a determination, your petition will be dismissed without prejudice to re-filing on July 3, 2012, which is 90 days from the date of this letter, and you will be required to begin providing closed captions for your programming on July 4, 2012.

Here is some information to help you better understand how the FCC processes individual requests for captioning exemptions:

THE PETITION PROCESS – What a Petition Must Contain

The FCC’s process for handling closed captioning exemption petitions has multiple steps. CGB is responsible for reviewing and deciding the merits of exemption petitions.

When CGB receives a petition, it must first determine whether a petition contains sufficient information to be placed on public notice (i.e., released to the public) so that the public can comment on its merits. CGB looks to whether the petition contains up-to-date evidence, supported by affidavit, to show that it would be economically burdensome to provide closed captioning for the specific programming for which an exemption is sought. Section 713(e) of the Communications Act and the FCC’s rules at 47 C.F.R. § 79.1(f)(2) define “economically burdensome” as “significant difficulty or expense.” In determining whether the provision of closed captions will cause significant difficulty or expense, these provisions require the FCC to consider four factors: (1) the nature and cost of the closed captions for the programming; (2) the impact on the operation of the provider or program owner; (3) the financial resources of the provider or program owner; and (4) the type of operations of the provider or program owner.

In order to prove that the provision of closed captioning would impose an economic burden when applying the above four factors, a petition must contain the following:

1. Documentation of the petitioner’s financial status sufficient to demonstrate the petitioner’s inability to afford closed captioning – for example, profit and loss statements or bank statement information. (This should not just include the resources it chooses to devote to the television program(s) that are the subject of this petition.);
2. Information about the costs associated with captioning the specific program(s) for which the petitioner is requesting an exemption;
3. Verification that the petitioner has sought closed captioning assistance (e.g., funding, services) from its video programming distributor; also the extent to which such assistance has been provided or rejected;
4. Verification that the petitioner has sought additional sponsorship sources or other sources of revenue for captioning, and that, even if these efforts have not successfully produced assistance, the petitioner does not otherwise have the means to provide captioning for the program(s); and
5. Information on the type of the petitioner’s operation(s) and the impact that providing captions would have on its programming activities, for example, the extent to which its programming might not be shown if it is required to provide captions.

Each petition should contain a specific list of names of the program(s) for which an exemption is being sought and it may describe other factors that the petitioner deems relevant to an exemption determination, as well as any alternatives that could be a reasonable substitute for the closed captioning requirement. Finally, each petition must be accompanied by an affidavit (i.e., a written sworn statement made under oath) supporting the petition.

We advise petitioners to carefully review the FCC's recently adopted Memorandum Opinion and Order, Order, and Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in Anglers for Christ Ministries, Inc., which can be found at <http://transition.fcc.gov/cgb/dro/caption.html> and corresponding FCC rules (47 CFR § 79.1(f)(2)-(3)). These documents describe the requirements for obtaining an economically burdensome exemption in detail.

THE PETITION PROCESS – What Happens When a Petition is Sufficient or Deficient

If CGB determines that the petition provides sufficient information upon which to make a determination of whether or not to grant a closed captioning exemption, it will place the petition on public notice in CG Docket No. 06-181 at <http://fjallfoss.fcc.gov/ecfs/>. Members of the public will then have 30 days to file comments on and/or oppositions to the petition, after which the petitioner will have 20 days to respond. At the end of this timeframe, CGB will review the petition, along with information provided in any comments and responses received, to determine whether providing captioning would be economically burdensome for the petitioner. While a petition is pending, the program at issue does not need to be captioned.

If, however, CGB determines that the petition and supporting documents do not provide sufficient information needed for the FCC to make a determination as to the merits of its petition, the petition will be considered deficient and CGB will not place the petition on public notice.

YOUR PETITION

As noted above, CGB has determined that the petition that you filed with the FCC on January 12, 2012, is deficient, because although it provided some information, it failed to provide sufficient information for us to make a determination as to whether the provision of closed captioning would be economically burdensome for you. We therefore conclude that your petition is not sufficient to be placed on public notice. As mentioned above, if you wish to receive further consideration for a closed captioning exemption for your programming, you must supplement your petition by filing the information listed in the first paragraph of this letter by May 4, 2012, which is 30 days from the date of this letter. If you do not file this additional information by that date or the information that you provide is still deficient, your petition will be dismissed without prejudice to re-filing, and you will be required to begin providing closed captions for this programming on July 4, 2012.

If you decide to supplement your petition, your petition, as well as any supporting financial information provided, will be available for public inspection. If your petition contains confidential information, you may request “confidential treatment,” i.e., that it not be shared with members of the public, pursuant to FCC rules. See 47 C.F.R. § 0.459. If you provide information for which you want “confidential treatment,” you must also submit a second version of your petition with the confidential information redacted (this must be submitted along with your request for confidential treatment). The redacted version will be publicly disclosed. If your request for confidential treatment is granted, the “public version” of your petition must still contain sufficient documentation to support your claim that closed captioning would be economically burdensome. This documentation is needed so that the public understands the basis for your exemption request and can comment on its merits.

If you have additional questions pertaining to the filing of an exemption request, please contact the FCC's Disability Rights Office at captioningexemption@fcc.gov. Thank you.
